

Get Involved

Coverage is Here King County

Join the conversation on social media.

Follow the conversation on social media and help spread the word.

Hashtags

- #coverkc
- #coverageishere

Facebook

- Facebook.com/WAHealthplanfinder
- Facebook.com/CoverageIsHere
- Facebook.com/KCPubHealth

Twitter

- @Waplanfinder
- @Coverageishere
- @KCPubhealth

For more information, visit:
kingcounty.gov/coverage

Join the Coverage Is Here King County Leadership Circle

The Coverage Is Here King County Leadership Circle will promote enrollment of uninsured individuals in health coverage. Comprised of health care providers, social service agencies, businesses, the faith community and others, this group will play a key role in helping spread the word about enrollment. Interested in joining the Leadership Circle? Please contact Katie Ross at kathryn.ross@kingcounty.gov.

Sign up for our partner Tool Kit

Looking for information to share with your community, including newsletter articles, social media content and up-to-date information about enrollment efforts in King County? Sign up for our monthly tool kit by emailing Katie Ross at kathryn.ross@kingcounty.gov.

Follow the Coverage Is Here King County blog

Too complicated! It's the most common complaint about the new health care law, from fans and critics alike. And figuring out what's happening locally can be a challenge. A blog created by Public Health – Seattle & King County should help (see <http://coverkingcounty.com>). All material is available for downloading and sharing. Expect a lot more content over the next few months. Subscribe to the blog via RSS or email, and get daily or weekly updates.

Promote enrollment events in your community

Starting October 1, King County and partner organizations will host events in communities across King County where people can get help enrolling in Washington Healthplanfinder for health insurance coverage beginning on January 1, 2014. Certified customer-service experts will be available at each event to provide individual help as you compare and enroll in health insurance coverage and, if eligible, gain access to tax credits, reduced cost sharing, and public programs such as Medicaid. Visit www.kingcounty.gov/coverage to find events in your community. Event listings are being updated regularly, so please check back for updates.